

Although I never met John I feel that I have got to know him through Gary Mc Darby. John it seems was a very unique individual and an excellent philosopher. Through hearing about him and reading about him I admire his eccentricity; the story of finding a spiritual experience in giving a chaffinch his hair to build a nest with really touched me. The whole simplicity of it speaks volumes. Being a big fan of St. Therese the Little Flower I feel that John and she will get on great up above. I feel that although John's physical presence will no longer be with us I feel that his spirit will live on and on.

The greatness of prophets is often not truly recognised until they are no longer with us. If John's philosophy were to become an integral part of our daily lives we would be by far much richer individuals. His work here on earth has not stopped; he has just changed his job location, where he can reach a bigger audience.
May he continue to enrich the lives of all of us every day for many years to come,
May he rest in Peace, - Eamonn Elliott
Slán abhaile John